PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

What is a Chamber, we all can have our own opinion? What we believe and what we act on is really what defines our Chamber of Commerce. Our relationships with the citizens and area businesses is what will move our town and the Chamber toward a stronger and more vibrant community. Nashville has been very fortunate to have had good leadership in place during a period of time when there was not a lot of things happening economically in our surrounding areas. You don’t have to look hard to see the town has done quite well. I am comfortable in saying a strong Chamber of Commerce surely played a vital role in stimulating and sustaining the economic growth.

What can we offer? Being involved in real estate for many years has led me to ask clients many times, what are you looking for? The answers are routinely, a quiet neighborhood, small town feel, caring community, good local leadership, good schools, low crime rate and good fire protection. We are very blessed to have all these quality characteristics here in Nashville. We as Chamber members have a lot to offer, not just to potential home owners but business owners as well.

What is next? Please don’t let your guard down. Speak to everyone you can promoting the Chamber whether they are potential members or not. If they are not members, tell them their benefits and ask them to become a member and part of our team. This only demonstrates your passion for our community and shows you care. Never pass up an opportunity to plant a seed for economic growth. Be a voice for the Town, for the community as well as the Chamber of Commerce. We are approaching the time of year when we gather for area festivals and celebrations. Don’t pass up this opportunity to promote this organization and what it does for our community. Get involved in our local events and please remember to pass on a reminder of upcoming events to all your contacts. This will only make our Chamber of Commerce better and better.

Remember, the local Chamber of Commerce is usually the first point of contact for a potential new business. Be a voice and be prepared!
Want to make a difference?

The Nashville Chamber of Commerce is always seeking volunteers who are interested in the community. The chamber offers several opportunities to volunteer including:

VICE PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Cliff Joyner
Chamber Vice-President

Is your business a member of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce? Not a business? That is perfectly fine. Several interested and involved citizens are individual members. They may work for a business not in the area, may be retired or just have a desire to keep Nashville such a wonderful place to live and work.

Nashville possesses many great qualities making this a perfect place to raise a family, start a business or to simply enjoy the charm of small town living once you’ve transitioned into your retirement years. As a lifelong resident, I have witnessed many changes over the years in Nashville. Most all have been good and have made this community a much nicer place to live.

We’ve seen the presence of Nash County grow downtown with the current Courthouse addition and Administrative Center. The Downtown Revitalization really dressed up our central business district. In addition to our innovative and growing local businesses, Nashville has also seen an influx of national and regional businesses.

Business and quality of life are what the Nashville Chamber is all about. Our work and efforts reveal numerous ways the Chamber adds to our quality of life. Annually the Chamber sponsors the Children’s Christmas Parade, Distinguished Citizen Award and the Blooming Festival. In addition local education is supported in such ways as helping with Nashville Elementary School’s Playground project to a scholarship program that assists graduating high school seniors further their education. We also sponsor ribbon cuttings for new businesses, seminars to help our members grow and improve their businesses and various opportunities to network with fellow chamber members, local elected officials and the public. We strive to inform citizens of issues vital to their life through candidate forums involving elections that directly impact Nashville.

Of course so many more things can be accomplished. But that takes people and resources. The Chamber is a volunteer organization with no paid staff. With your involvement, there’s no telling what we can accomplish. Contact the chamber to see about joining our membership and becoming involved. Mayberry has nothing on Nashville.
The Nashville Chamber of Commerce hosts First Friday Coffee each month. Members are welcome to sponsor the coffee and promote your business during the event. Nashville offers convenient access to retail and industry. The town's industrial development includes:

Nashville Business Center - is located on Interstate 495/US Highway 64, immediately adjacent to Exit 458 on the Raleigh/Triangle side of the Town. This location allows for efficient operations for any industry’s transportation along with enabling convenient accessibility for employees’ commute to work throughout the region or a reverse commute for industrial executives that reside within the Raleigh area.

West Nashville Commerce Park - The Cooke Road Site is a multi-acre site approximately less than five minutes from Interstate 495/US Highway 64 via two interchanges. Being located on the western side of Nashville allows the opportunity for direct connections to and from the Raleigh/Triangle region.

Pleasant Grove Industrial Park - is a privately owned and operated park that has sites for sale and/or the ability to for construction to suit any industry through lease option. It is located a minute from Exit 458 of Interstate 495/US Highway 64 and provides the more traditional industrial sites with the availability of multiple points of ingress.

Nashville, NC is one of 12 Nashvilles in the United States and is the oldest. The town continues to be regarded as “A Great Place to Live, Work and Play.”

Nashville’s growth rate has made it the fastest growing full service municipality in Nash County, according to the 2010 US Census. This trend is expected to continue as Nashville continues to serve as the geographical and institutional center of Nash County. However, Nashville has kept its small town charm while continuing to grow.

A Downtown Redevelopment Phase I project was completed for the Washington Street area of the Downtown area which is part of a revitalization project for all of Downtown that will include improvements such as streetscape work on sidewalks, lighting, underground utilities, and building facades. This is just one of many community development projects designed to ensure focus on both issues of depth along with growth to make sure Nashville remains “A Great Place to Live, Work, and Play.” But the main key has always been the citizens of Nashville.

As the county seat, the town is also host to the county administrative building, courthouse, health department, social services, emergency services, Sheriff’s Department, Senior Center, Nash Arts, and Nash-Rocky Mount School System Administrative Offices (along with Nashville Elementary, Nash Central Middle School, Nash Central High School and Northern Nash High School being located either in town or close by.)

Pictured above is the Nash County Courthouse, an example of Colonial Revival public architecture in North Carolina, designed by architect J.C. Stout and completed in 1921. Nashville is home to multiple historic structures along with modern facilities and activities for adults and youth. Residential areas include a unique blend of historical homes and new construction. Citizens have access to a variety of businesses and services along with parks, recreation and many community organizations which contribute to the quality of life.
The Nashville chamber of Commerce welcomed The Painted Teacher to downtown Nashville in 2017.

Nashville is known for its small town charm, friendly people and a “Great Place to Live, Work and Play.” Founded in 1780, the Town of Nashville is located in eastern North Carolina along US64 (Future I-495) only 5 minutes from I-95. It is centrally located along the east coast approximately half-way between New York City and Miami.

The town has a population of 5,500 and is the County Seat for Nash County. It maintains many of the charms of southern towns with tree lined streets and older historic homes.

Just over a 30 minute commute to Raleigh, NC, the town is a central location for business and pleasure. Its convenient location near the intersection of US64 (Future I-495) and I-95 allows for easy travel along multilane modern highways to nearly any part of the US.

RDU International Airport is only a one hour drive. Further, it’s only a short two hour drive to points along the sandy North Carolina beaches and approximately four hours to the beautiful Blue Ridge Parkway and the Great Smoky Mountains. Washington, DC, is only four hours up Interstate Highway I-95.

Nashville's Chamber of Commerce co-sponsors local events such as trick-or-treating around downtown Nashville. The event is a collaboration between the chamber and Nashville’s Park and Recreation Department. Youngsters enjoyed a stroll around downtown while treated with lots of candy. Prior to trick-or-treating, Cooley Library hosted a Fall Festival. Afterwards, an outdoor movie was shown in the library’s parking lot.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

CHILDREN’S CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

The Nashville Chamber of Commerce organizes Nashville's Annual Christmas Celebration and Bicycle Parade in downtown Nashville. The event is held on the first Saturday in December. Children age 12 and younger march in their very own parade to light the town’s Christmas Tree and greet Santa. The chamber rewards the most spirited costumes with holiday cash. Nash Central Middle and Red Oak Middle School bands perform holiday tunes and the Nash Central High School Chorus sings Christmas carols.
