A GREAT PLACE TO VISIT OR LIVE!

Nash County has plenty to offer both first-time visitors and lifelong residents. You can find the perfect mix of old and new, town and country.

Nash County is located in the northeastern section of the state, often called the Coastal Plain Region. Nash County is bordered by Edgecombe, Wilson, Johnston, Franklin and Halifax counties.

Nash County is 540 square miles with an estimated population of 93,991 people.

Nash County also boasts a favorable climate for both work and play, with an average year-round temperature of 59.45 degrees, with winter months in the 40s and summer months in the mid-to-high 80s. Average rainfall is 43 inches a year.

The elevation of Nash County is 180 feet above sea level.

Agriculture is important to Nash County, as 40 percent of the land area in the county is considered farm land.

Nash County ranks 20th in agricultural production among all North Carolina counties and is home to 425 farm operations of all sizes. According to USDA-National Agricultural statistics, Nash County ranks third in the state for vegetables harvested, second for sweet potato and first for tobacco production.

Nash County is also considered a transportation hub and distribution center, thanks to being crisscrossed by major highways and railroads.

The history of Nash County begins before recorded history, with the Tuscarora tribe calling the area home before European settlers came. After the first colonists came, the Tuscarora helped them by teaching planting methods and by trading with them.

The name "Nash" itself is historic. The county was named in honor of General Francis Nash, a patriot and Revolutionary War hero who died while fighting the Redcoats with George Washington.

The county seat is Nashville, established 1780.

The largest community is the City of Rocky Mount. Founded on the "rocky mound" near the waterfalls on the Tar River, the community had one of the earliest cotton mills in North Carolina.

The other incorporated towns are Bailey, Spring Hope, Whitakers, Sharpsburg, Momeyer, Castalia, Red Oak, Dortches and Middlesex.

Education is important in Nash County. The public school system is Nash-Rocky Mount Schools, providing classrooms for kindergarten through high school. Higher education institutions are Nash Community College, located between Nashville and Rocky Mount and North Carolina Wesleyan College, which is located in Rocky Mount and is a four-year, liberal arts college affiliated with the Methodist Church. Shaw University has a satellite campus in Rocky Mount.

The Tar River Basin is the major watershed for the county. It also has the Tar River Reservoir, popular for boating and fishing. The Tar River is popular for canoe and kayak trips.
Formed in 1777 from the western part of Edgecombe County, Nash County was named for Brigadier General Francis Nash (1742-1777), who was mortally wounded during the American Revolution while fighting under General George Washington at Germantown. Along with Nash County, Nash’s namesake was also given to Nashville, Tennessee; Nashville, North Carolina; Nash County, North Carolina and Nashville, Georgia.

After the Revolution, which touched the county only lightly, Nash County settled down to a pace that made it one of the state’s leading farm areas. Other than farming, the main industry of the area was turpentine and tar manufacturing and some lumber operations.

The home of Micajah Thomas served as the location for the first court in the county. Future courts were held at locations determined by the Justices of the Peace until a courthouse was erected.

In 1815 an act was passed naming commissioners to locate the center of the county and purchase 50 acres of land on which to erect a courthouse. The act also named commissioners to select a site for the county seat. Other commissioners were named to lay out the Town of Nashville and to have the courthouse erected.

Nashville was settled in 1780 and chartered in 1815. First land grants in the area date back to 1743.

Nashville eventually was agreed upon to be named the county seat. However, it is noted that between the years of 1815 and 1825, there was controversy among citizens in regards to the location of the courthouse.

You’ll find 30 Nash County listings in the National Register of Historical Places including houses, farms, industrial buildings, the county courthouse, and Stonewall Manor. Aided by The Historic Preservation Office, Nash County’s preservation is abundant including Nash Arts, Stonewall Manor, Bellemonte, the Imperial Tobacco Company, Fire Station #2, Rocky Mount Mills and associated houses.

A listing of the 30 sites are included in the Scenic and Historic Sites section of this guide.

A few publications noting Nash County history include Central City Historic Buildings Inventory, Rocky Mount, North Carolina by Kate Mearns, 1979. The History and Architecture of Nash County, North Carolina by Richard L. Mattson, 1987. Published by the Nash County Planning Department; and Nash County Historical Notes: a Bicentennial Tribute, by T.E. Ricks, Rocky Mount, 1976. Another book, Patriot Sons, Patriot Brothers by Hugh O. Nash, Jr., also gives an extensive bibliography of two brothers, Francis Nash and Abner Nash.

The Nash County Courthouse is an example of Colonial Revival public architecture in North Carolina, designed by architect J. C. Stout and completed in 1921. (An expansion project was completed in 2018, see page 8 for photo.)
Rocky Mount's train station is part of the city's historic district. The building was originally constructed in 1893 by Wilmington & Weldon Railroad as a two story Romanesque station with one story wings. The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad added two stories to the wings in 1911-12 and in 1916 a third story was added to the structure. A modern addition was built in the 1960s. The restoration of the station was completed in 2000.

Nash County boasts the convenience of a metropolitan community while at the same time, the quiet pleasures of small living.
You can also find affordable homes, moderate climate and an abundance of resources that contribute to the quality of life.
Nash County is located in the northeastern section of the state. It is conveniently located on major North-South (I-95) and East-West (US 64) highways. Nash County has a total area of 542.71 square miles, with 540.41 square miles of land area. The average temperature is 58.45°F with the average temperature in January of 39.5°F and the average July temperature of 78.5°F. The average rainfall is around 43 inches. The elevation of Nash County is 180 feet above sea level.
Nash County could be classified as either a northern coastal plain county or a far eastern piedmont county. It has a primarily rolling terrain with sandy soil, however, brick and tile clays are found along the Tar River, which flows through Nash County and Rocky Mount. A granite belt is located relatively close to the surface and extends westward from the city for about 20 miles.

AREA TRANSPORTATION
Bus & Rail Service - Served by the main line of the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, along the eastern boundary, the Nash County Railroad serves the central portion of the county and the southern portion of the county is served by Norfolk and Southern Railroad. The county is also served by a network of major highways including US Highways 301, 264, 64; Interstate 95 and soon, Interstate 495; and state highways 97, 48, 58, and 44. There are also numerous motor freight carrier terminals in the Rocky Mount area.
Carolina Trailways, a regional bus company that has been operating in North Carolina since the 1920s, now owned by Greyhound, provides scheduled intercity bus service to the Rocky Mount Terminal.
Train Service - North Carolina’s state-supported Carolinian and Piedmont trains and Amtrak’s north-south Silver Meteor, Silver Palm and Silver Star trains have scheduled daily service to the Rocky Mount train station.

AUTOMOBILES

All new residents of North Carolina must purchase state license plates for their vehicles; the length of time after establishing residency depends upon the state the new resident has moved from.

North Carolina auto liability insurance is also required; a certificate of insurance must be provided when applying for an operator’s license.

Vehicle registration and license tag purchases are made at the N.C. License Plate Agency at 1850 Stone Rose Dr., Rocky Mount, 27804; (252) 443-7900 or at 123 South Ash Street, Spring Hope, 27882; (252) 231-2073

Obtain a driver’s license at the Division of Motor Vehicles office at 2617 N. Wesleyan Blvd., Rocky Mount; (252) 442-8905

A motor vehicle must pass an annual safety inspection before it can be registered in North Carolina or the registration can be renewed. The inspection must be completed within 90 days of renewing the vehicle.

During a safety inspection, a licensed mechanic examines a vehicle’s headlights, signals, brakes, steering, windows and tires.

Failure to get a vehicle inspected by the due date will result in a vehicle’s registration being blocked until the vehicle is inspected.

Windshield inspection stickers are no longer issued as vehicles are given an electronic authorization which reports that vehicle has been inspected and registered as required by law.

Your inspection date coincides with registration renewal.

In 2013, North Carolina began its Tag and Tax Together program. The program was designed to collect vehicle property taxes along with registration renewals and to conveniently pay them together. Your annual vehicle inspection, registration renewal and vehicle property tax are due the same month each year.

BUILDING PERMITS

For properties located in Nash County outside of the City of Rocky Mount and its extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ), building or trade permits issued by the Nash County Planning & Inspections Department are required for the following:

· All structural work regardless of cost.
· All non-structural work (including construction, installation, repair, replacement, or alteration) costing more than $15,000.
· The construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, movement to another site, removal, or demolition of any building except residential accessory buildings that are no larger than twelve feet (12’) in any dimension (length, width, or height.) Note: Zoning permits may still be required for small buildings.
· The addition or change in design of any plumbing system.
· The addition, replacement, or change in design of any heating or cooling equipment system.
· The addition, replacement, or change in design of electrical wiring, devices, appliances, or equipment.
· The addition of new roofing (but not the replacement of existing roofing.)
· The opening of a new business in an existing building may require a change of commercial tenant inspection to ensure that the building meets all the applicable code requirements for that particular type of business.
· There is a $150 fee for beginning work without obtaining the required permit(s).

For more information, please contact the Nash County Planning & Inspections Department by phone at (252) 459-9807 or e-mail nashpermits@nashcountync.gov.

TAXES

County taxes are paid at the Claude Mayo, Jr. Administrative Building in downtown Nashville at 120 W. Washington Street. You may also pay your taxes online. Visit www.co.nash.nc.us and click on “Departments” and go to “Tax” and click “Tax Payments.”

BUSINESS LICENSE & ZONING PERMITS

If you are building something or opening a business in the city or town limits of one of the municipalities in Nash County, you should visit that town first to obtain any required license and zoning permission. If your business will be located outside one of the towns, call the Nash County Planning and Inspections Department at (252) 459-9807 to make sure you’re in a properly zoned area of the county. If you are opening a business in an existing building, contact the Nash County Inspections office at (252) 459-9807 to be sure the building is constructed for that type of business. If your business will involve beer or wine, be sure to contact the Nash county Tax Office at 252-459-1002 for a county license.

Nash County Emergency Services is a dedicated group of professionals committed to making Nash County a safe place to live and work. The Department of Emergency Services consists of four divisions: Fire and Rescue Services, EMS, 911 Communications and Emergency Management.

The Division of Fire and Rescue Services is responsible for coordination of fire protection activities for the 15 fire departments located throughout Nash County. The Fire Marshal’s Office assists the departments with training and equipment needs and responds to major incidents and performs the required Fire Prevention Code inspections of the North Carolina Building Code per NC General Statutes.

The Division of Emergency Medical Services provides advance life support care, pre-hospital emergency care, and convalescent transport in a quick and efficient manner to the citizens of Nash County. Nash EMS also provides public education and awareness about Emergency Medical Services, child safety seats, bike safety and public safety.

The 911 Communications Division operates and maintains a county-wide radio and enhanced 911 system which provides coordinated law enforcement, fire, and emergency medical services to all Nash County residents. Each year, the division is the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) for over 40,000 requests for assistance, dispatching 29 public response agencies, and acting as the centralized point of coordination of all county emergency services.

The Division of Emergency Management plans, prepares and responds to major emergencies and disasters in Nash County. Emergency Management works with all emergency response agencies, governmental services and private industry to coordinate resources to respond to and to mitigate an emergency. Emergency Management assists groups with preparing emergency plans and actively educates the public on how to react to disasters.

Nash County has instituted the CodeRED Emergency Notification System - an ultra high-speed telephone communication service for emergency notifications. This system allows the county to telephone all or targeted areas of the County in case of an emergency situation that requires immediate action (such as a boil-water notice, missing child or evacuation notices).

The system is capable of dialing 50,000 phone numbers per hour. It then delivers a recorded message to a live person or an answering machine, making three attempts to connect to any number.

THIS SYSTEM WILL ONLY BE USED FOR EMERGENCY PURPOSES SUCH AS:
Drinking water contamination, utility outage, evacuation notice & route, missing person, fires or floods, bomb threat, hostage situation, chemical spill or gas leak, and other emergency incidents where rapid and accurate notification is essential for life safety.

The purpose of the CodeRED system is to give citizens the opportunity to enter alternate telephone numbers as well as ensuring that their primary telephone number is in the system. The database includes 60 - 70% of all telephone numbers in Nash County. However, to help ensure communication, citizens should enter their primary contact number as well as any other numbers they would like to be joined to their address.

Your information will remain completely private. No one from the public can view your telephone numbers and your primary telephone number cannot be changed by anyone. For additional information please call (252) 459-1214.

NASH COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Nash County Health Department’s (NCHD) public health mission is to promote healthy lifestyles, to prevent diseases, and to detect and treat health problems early. NCHD serves ALL Nash County residents whether or not you ever step through our door through programs such as community and environmental health. The Health Department offers confidential services to all residents regardless of race, age, religion, gender, marital status, national origin, or disability status.

Primary Services:

Women, Infant and Children (WIC)
WIC aims to prevent and improve nutrition-related health problems during pregnancy, the postpartum period, and the first five years of life. Those who qualify for the program receive assessment of nutrition habits and needs, nutrition counseling, encouragement/support for breastfeeding, information and referrals to other health care services, “food vouchers” which provide basic nutritious foods, and Farmer’s Market coupons for fresh fruits and vegetables during the spring/summer months.

Child Health
This program strives to identify health problems and promotes healthy physical, mental, and emotional development. Services include wellness check-ups, sports physicals and limited sick care for children 0-21 years of age, dietary counseling, physical exams work, lead and sickle cell screening and counseling, referral if health or developmental problems are found, developmental checkups, immunizations, dental screenings and varnishing and Care Coordination for Children (CC4).

Maternity Clinic
The goal of the Maternity Clinic is to provide regular prenatal care in hopes of reducing pregnancy complications and infant deaths. Services include pregnancy testing and counseling, childbirth classes, regular prenatal physicals, substance abuse evaluation and counseling, Pregnancy Care Management, and dietary counseling.

Family Planning
This program provides assistance in planning family size and spacing of births. Services include: education on natural family planning, methods of birth control, and breast self exam, physical exams including testing for infections, birth control method supplies, and pregnancy testing and adult immunizations.

Immunizations
The goal of the immunization program is to prevent the spread of communicable diseases through proper vaccination. Services include childhood immunizations and adult immunizations (including influenza, pneumonia, and tetanus/pertusis/diphtheria).

Communicable Disease Control
This program aims to prevent, test, treat, and provide follow-up to sexually transmitted diseases, hepatitis, tuberculosis, and other communicable diseases. Services include confidential testing, contact follow-up, and treatment (when available), individual and group education to prevent communicable diseases, medications and referrals for TB x-rays, confidential HIV/AIDS testing and outreach, and outbreak investigation.

Emergency Preparedness
This program works with various health and emergency agencies to develop plans for managing outbreaks or community-wide disasters, prepares and participates in community-wide emergency management drills and responds to disease outbreaks and disasters to protect the public’s health.

Women’s Health Watch
This program is an annual screening clinic for women that includes screening for high blood pressure, anemia, breast cancer, and diabetes, Pap smears to detect cervical cancer, cholesterol tests, dietary counseling, education to change unhealthy habits which may cause chronic disease, adult immunizations and referrals if health problems are found. Nash County Health Department may pay for a limited number of mammograms for women who cannot afford to have one. To qualify for this, you must have a breast exam and a pap smear.

Environmental Health
The Environmental Health Program encompasses food/lodging/institutional sanitation, sewage disposal/well protection, and animal control. Services include permitting and inspecting facilities that sell food to the public, providing “Foodhandler Classes” to foodservice establishment employees, inspection of all public pools to enforce health/safety standards, inspection of childcare facilities/summer camps/nursing homes, hospitals, residential care facilities, tattoo parlors, and lodging facilities, enforcement of state laws which protect children from exposure to lead hazards, enforcement of state regulation on smoke-free bars/restaurants, collection and testing of water samples, evaluation of building sites for suitability of septic systems, and enforcement of local well ordinances, well/septic design permitting.

Animal Clinic
Services include enforcing rabies vaccination laws, investigating animal bites, encouraging proper animal care and population control, providing animal adoption and cosponsorship, with local veterinarians, rabies vaccination clinics.

Health Education and Planning
The primary purpose of the Health Education & Planning program is to provide leadership in initiating interventions to improve the health status of Nash County residents. The main program goal is to change environments, policies, and individual behaviors to reduce risk for health problems and improve the health status of Nash County. Specific programs and services include childbirth education, teen pregnancy prevention through Teen Time, chronic and communicable disease information and prevention education, promotion.

Solid Waste
This program assures safe collection, storage and disposal of our community’s trash. Services include: providing and staffing 9 convenience centers throughout the county for solid waste and recycling; investigates complaints of solid waste violations; operates a landfill for the disposal of construction and demolition waste; operates a scrap tire collection area; and operates a yard waste collection area.

Nash UNC Health Care
Nash UNC Health Care is a non-profit hospital affiliate of UNC Health Care. Nash Health Care is comprised of four licensed hospitals totaling 345 beds: Nash General Hospital, Nash Day Hospital, the Bryant T. Aldridge Rehabilitation Center and Coastal Plain Hospital.

Nash UNC Health Care first opened in 1971 as Nash General Hospital and was the first all-private room hospital in North Carolina.

Since that time the hospital has grown into Nash UNC Health Care and boasts the new Danny Talbott Cancer Center, state-of-the-art Nash Heart Center, a new Emergency Department that includes one of only eight separate Pediatric Emergency Departments in the state, and the Nash Women’s Center, a $25 million dollar obstetrical facility designed to give new mothers and their babies the finest and most comfortable birthing experience.

It most recently opened UNC Cancer Care at Nash and UNC Cardiology at Nash, two programs that recruit experts from UNC to treat patients in its surrounding five-county service area.

More information about Nash Health Care, including virtual tours of its new facilities, is available at www.nashunchealthcare.org.

Wilson Medical Center
A Duke LifePoint Hospital, Wilson Medical Center is a 294-bed health care organization that offers a range of services. Wilson Medical Center’s team of nearly 1,000 employees is committed to always providing compassionate care. The hospital offers comprehensive cardiac care, imaging services, cancer care, women’s and children’s services and orthopedics. They also provide primary and specialty care through Wilson Physician Services – including primary care, endocrinology, ENT, gastroenterology, neurology and orthopedics.

Wilson Medical Center has a wound healing Center, private rehabilitation rooms in Wilson Rehabilitation & Nursing Center, a child care center and Hospice. Wilson Medical also provides a number of outreach programs including support groups, Oncology Nurse Navigator Program, a free service that provides a nurse to act as a navigator of healthcare resources to people with cancer and their families; Silver Service, our program for people 55+, which includes monthly educational sessions, a free flu clinic, wellness screenings and an annual trip; and Wellness services to our community.

The Rocky Mount Senior Center is a City of Rocky Mount Parks & Recreation facility under the supervision of the department’s Division of Senior Programs. The division and facility promote and provide health and safety information, educational opportunities, leisure recreational activities, and referral services for participants age 55 and older in the local community. The senior center is Nationally Accredited by the National Council on Aging and its National Institute of Senior Centers.

Programming includes physical, mental, emotional, cultural and social. All programming are to benefit participants and to provide the opportunity to age actively.

Programs and services offered include:

- Health/Wellness classes (Water Aerobics, Senior Stretch, Sweatin’ to the Oldies, Body Craze, Line Dancing, Yoga-Like, Fitness Area, the pool (and more)
- Nash Community College Continuing Education Partnership (Senior Chef, Container Gardening and Beginner Fly Tying)
- Day and overnight trips
- Special Events such as Christmas Gala, Summer Blast, Ice Cream Social, Veterans’ Lunch and many more
- Athletic Leagues/tournaments including local Senior Games
- Educational classes/workshops like our monthly Lunch & Learn, etc.
- Drop in/informal recreation activities (Open Swim, Billiards, Bingo, Walking, Basketball, etc.)
- Senior clubs (Book Club, Pinochle, etc.)
- Information and referral services
- Volunteer opportunities

The Senior Center also houses a Fitness Center with state-of-the-art fitness equipment, a gymnasium (popular for pick-up basketball and walking laps), a heated pool and more.

While many activities are free to all participants, some classes/activities do require a small monthly, daily, or one time registration fee.

For more information, visit www.rockymountnc.gov/parks or contact the Senior Center Manager at 252-972-1562 or by email at brian.harrell@rockymountnc.gov.
The Senior Services Division of the Recreation and Senior Services Department celebrates aging, supports independence in our community, and addresses the needs of the complete individual by offering information, referrals, and access to continued growth and development. Our mission is accomplished by providing programs and services for seniors 60 years of age or older. The Senior Services Division operates two senior centers to serve the community: the Nash County Senior Center in Nashville and the Southern Nash Senior Center in Bailey. Recreational programs offered include aerobics, arts and crafts, cards and games, day and overnight trips, dance classes, socials, support groups, and educational classes. Both centers also provide foot care clinic services, health screenings, free legal aid assistance, and Medicare insurance counseling. There is no fee to join.

Additionally, the Nash County Senior Services Division offers a wide array of services to seniors and their caregivers. The Home Delivered Meals program is provided in the communities of Bailey, Middlesex, Samaria, Spring Hope, Nashville, Castalia, Corinth, Red Oak, Dortches, and West Mount. We also manage a congregate nutrition site located in Rocky Mount at Covenant Homes. Family caregiver resources, including Respite Services, are available for caregivers. Other services provided include Frozen Meals, Project Lifesaver, General and Medical Transportation, and referral information for other services not provided by our agency. The Rocky Mount Veterans Memorial at Jack Laughery Park is a lasting tribute to all who have served in the United States Armed Forces. The project is a joint effort between the City of Rocky Mount, local veterans, and friends of Jack Laughery.

The City of Rocky Mount officially unveiled the memorial on Veteran’s Day, November 11, 2007.

The memorial, located at 321 North Church Street, includes a series of five stone columns, commemorating each branch of the armed forces. The park has a water feature, park benches, and flagpoles for the colors of our nation, state, and city. Customized lighting and thoughtful landscaping of plants and trees creates a meditative setting for visitors.

The park also features customized bricks for the walkways. Individuals have the opportunity to purchase and personalize a brick to be included in the walkways. All contributions to the Veterans Memorial are tax deductible.

The Joint Veterans Committee, which is made up of local veterans organizations, holds a flag raising ceremony at the memorial each month to honor a local, deceased veteran. A flag is raised in the veteran’s memory and flown over the memorial for a month, where it is then retired and presented to the family of the deceased veteran. A special ceremony is also held each year on Memorial and Veterans Day.

For more information on the memorial, please call (252) 972-1542. (Information provided by the City of Rocky Mount.)
Mission: To improve the quality of life of local veterans, their families, and survivors by providing counseling and assistance in seeking Federal and State benefits and services.

Services Provided: Advising and assisting veterans and other dependents of veterans in filing for compensation, pension claims and burial assistance; selecting and preparing proper forms for submission to the Department of Veteran’s Affairs and other agencies; assisting persons in applying for medical benefits and life insurance through the Veteran’s Administration or Department of Veteran’s Affairs; assisting children of veterans in obtaining educational benefits to which they may be entitled; referring veterans and their families to appropriate agencies for help in obtaining information on the various programs.

Veterans are asked to bring their DD214/discharge papers, if available, when seeking services.

Agriculture is important to Nash County. Nash County ranks 20th among North Carolina counties for the value of its agricultural production. Major agricultural products include tobacco, poultry, swine, forestry, soybeans, sweet potatoes, cotton, peanuts, cucumbers, small grain, beef cattle, nursery and ornamental plants.

The Nash County office of N.C. Cooperative Extension is an extension of N.C. State University and N.C. A&T State University. Local extension educational programs are conducted for agricultural production, family and consumer science, community and rural development and 4-H youth development. On behalf of Nash County, Cooperative Extension also manages a regional farmers market in Rocky Mount.

Nash County Cooperative Extension hosts Heritage Days each year for area fourth graders, demonstrating how things were done many years ago. Several stations are set up for youth to visit, including animal stations, corn grist, corn shucking, outhouse, quilting, butter churning and honey making. Pictured, Coopers Elementary students Kailyn Ireland and Benjamin Hart react to holding baby chicks at Heritage Days.

NASH ARTS CENTER
www.nasharts.org
(252) 459-4734
100 East Washington Street
Nashville, NC

The Nash Arts Center is home of the Nash County Arts Council (Nash Arts). Nash Arts provides a full slate of entertainment as well as visual arts and theatre to citizens from across the entire county. Some of its concerts even attract people from neighboring states.

The organization and building is here today due to a group of dedicated individuals. Nash Arts is housed in the former Nashville Baptist Church that was built in 1914. The building was slated to be demolished and made into a parking lot in 1983. In November of 1984, a group of citizens, including Hazel Valentine, Willard Barnes, Ray Matthews and Mildred Hinton, saved the building and created a facility that could provide the area with a few programs.

In early 1985, the committee prepared and proposed a charter and bylaws for an organization to be formed. In June 1985, Nash Arts Center became official. Willard Barnes was the first President of the organization. Ten days later the first program was held in the building. During its first year Nash Arts offered six programs, a majority of them through an Oral History Project.

On November 7, 1997, the board of directors of the Nash County Cultural Center, recognizing that its primary function had shifted to program operations, rather than building restoration, voted to operate as Nash Arts, Inc., housed in the Nash County Cultural Center.

Programs include visual arts exhibitions showcasing acrylic paintings, oil paintings, photography, and ceramics. Educational programs are also offered such as summer camps for youth. Musical presentations and local theatre are also offered such as the popular annual production of the Dicken’s classic “A Christmas Carol.”

Nash Arts is a private, non-profit organization which celebrates, promotes and produces artists and arts activities. It showcases local, regional and national artists and self-taught artists and craftsmen.

If you’re interested in learning more about Nash Arts, would like schedules or would like to volunteer, call (252) 459-4734 or visit www.nasharts.org.

270 Gay Street
Rocky Mount, NC

The Imperial Centre for Arts and Sciences opened in January 2006. It is housed in the former sites of the Imperial Tobacco Company and old Braswell Memorial Library in downtown Rocky Mount at 270 Gay Street and houses the Arts Center, Children’s Museum & Science Center and community performing arts theatre. The 135,000 square foot facility involved the historic restoration and renovation of old buildings which had been dormant for more than 50 years. Completion of the project spanned two years and resulted in a state-of-the-art facility that preserves the historic aspects of the original buildings.

The Rocky Mount Arts Center offers unique opportunities in the visual and performing arts for the Nash County area. The Center contains 10 art galleries, theater, classrooms and an art studio. Regular art exhibits, courses in interior design, painting, sculpture, ceramics, crewel, theater-related courses and other arts and crafts activities are offered to all ages.

Visual and performing arts classes are scheduled throughout the year with an emphasis on children’s activities during the summer. Regular programming also includes concerts, exhibition and seminars. The Arts Center is a division of the City of Rocky Mount Parks & Recreation Department.

ROCKY MOUNT CHILDREN’S MUSEUM & SCIENCE CENTER
www.imperialcentre.org

A hands-on science museum for the entire family, the mission of the Rocky Mount Children's Museum and Science Center is to raise awareness in those who visit of their global connection and “unique place in space” by encouraging their participation in science, mathematics, and technology. Programs include science demonstrations, school presentations, special events, unique field trips, science camps and more. The Cummins Planetarium has laser light shows and a planetarium solar system and educational events.

In addition it includes a live animal habitat, living marsh, a sensory environmental exhibit. An annual major exhibit makes this a family learning experience.

The Imperial Centre for Arts & Sciences is a division of the City of Rocky Mount Parks & Recreation Department.

Festivals & Parades
At the area’s parades, festivals, community and civic events, visitors and residents alike can enjoy many celebrations in the Nash County area.

The Rocky Mount Area Christmas Parade is held the first Sunday in December featuring holiday floats, marching bands, and Santa Claus.

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Dancing with the Arts - This event is held each year in April and pairs up community business members to dance for the benefit of the Nash County Arts Council. Members of the community vote for their favorite dance couple. (252) 459-4734

Red Oak Derby Day
This event is one of two annual fundraisers sponsored by the Red Oak Area Historic Preservation Society (ROAHPS), The Town of Red Oak and local businesses. The event is held the first Saturday of May and features live streaming of the Kentucky Derby on an 8 ft digital screen, catered meal, live band and lots of fun “fund” wagering on the Derby Winner. All proceeds go to benefit the restoration of the Farm Life Teacherage located across from Red Oak Elementary. The event is held on the grounds of the Teacherage. Please contact Town Clerk, Tracy Shearin at redoak@embarqmail.com if you wish to be listed as a sponsor for this fun filled event.

Blooming Festival (May) - Held annually in downtown Nashville, Mother’s Day weekend, this festival celebrates Spring. A weekend of fun and live entertainment, including unique crafts, live music, great food, and a parade, carnival and children’s activities. This event draws thousands into town and is sponsored by the Nash County Chamber of Commerce. The activities are on Washington Street and around the courthouse. For more info, call (252) 459-4050.

Living History Weekend at Stonewall Manor (Late April) - A Civil War era re-creation on the grounds of this historic home. A re-creation of a period camp site, costumes, the firing of an authentic cannon and ceremonial drills to fill out the day.

National Juried Art Exhibition - One of eastern North Carolina’s largest, oldest and most prestigious arts events. The Rocky Mount Arts Center hosts three national juried exhibitions annually. 972-1175

Annual July 4th Celebration (July 4th) - Travel to Castalia for the best in old-fashioned food, entertainment, parades, and plenty of fireworks. Crowds gather July 4 for the Castalia Independence Day Celebration. A Veterans Appreciation event starts the festivities followed by a parade while bands, dancers and singers keep the crowds entertained all day until the elaborate fireworks display that night. Established in the mid-1980s, this area July 4 celebration continues to grow in popularity.

Red Oak Family Freedom Celebration - An area event Co-Sponsored by the Town of Red Oak and area Churches held on the grounds of Red Oak Baptist Church and Red Oak Elementary School. The community gathers on the Sunday night leading up to the Fourth of July to enjoy bounce houses, snow cones, popcorn, hot dogs, music and of course the highlight, fireworks over Ennis Park ball fields. This is a free event for the community annually.

Downtown Live & Lawn Chair Movie Theater Rocky Mount - Free live bands and entertainment and family movies on the lawn at the Imperial Centre from late May through early September.

Juneteenth Community Empowerment Festival - This event strives to create community cohesion through a two-day event featuring guest speakers, cultural activities, and a variety of live entertainment. There is a Friday night jazz celebration and food, music and children’s activities. 972-1159

SUMMER

Annual Freedom Celebration at Rocky Mount Municipal Stadium (July 3rd) - The City’s July fest features singer, bands, and an impressive fireworks display. Thousands gather to sit in the stands or on the grounds with blankets to watch the area’s largest independence celebration. 972-1159

National Night Out - Area police departments participate in this annual community-building campaign that promotes police-community partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie to make neighborhoods safer places to live. The event is held the first Tuesday in August.
FALL

R. Sullivan Fisher Farm
(September - November) - The Fisher family opens its doors to visitors to view “fruits” of the fall harvest including pumpkins, gourds, Indian corn, wheat straw and fall squash. Children can also see various farm animals. School groups welcome. Located on Highway 43 in Red Oak, two miles West of Interstate 95.

Down East Viking Classic
(September) - Fall means it’s time for top-notch gridiron action at Rocky Mount Athletics Stadium, when the Vikings of Elizabeth City State take on a tough CIAA rival. Football’s the game but fun and entertainment are also special parts of one of the busiest weekends of the season. From tailgating, golf, fashion shows and more, the Classic has become just that - a classic weekend of fun-filled excitement.

Spring Hope Pumpkin Festival
(1st weekend of October) - When there’s a nip in the air and frost on the ground, you know it’s time for this annual fall harvest event. Going strong since 1971, the Pumpkin Festival attracts 30,000-40,000 visitors each year and is nationally recognized. The two-day festival promotes one of the area’s favorite commodities – pumpkins. Pumpkin-weighing contests offer cash prizes, and a parade and bands provide entertainment. Crafts, living history programs and food booths are also familiar exhibits at this small town festival.

Eastern Carolina BBQ Throwdown
(October) - Over 40 teams from the Southeast and across the country compete to win this cook-off featuring beef, chicken and pork and beef brisket. Trophies, “bragging rights” and prize money are awarded. There is also live music, children’s activities and vendors. The Eastern Carolina BBQ Throwdown is on the Great American BBQ Tour presented by KCBS. 972-1159

Red Oak - BBQ and Bluegrass
- Annual event sponsored by ROAHPS, Town of Red Oak and area businesses. This fun family oriented event is held the first Saturday of November at the Fisher Pumpkin Farm in Red Oak and features live bluegrass music, hayrides, corn hole, pumpkin carving, Chinese auction and a catered BBQ meal. All proceeds go toward the restoration of the Farm Life Teacherage; sponsorship information can be requested from Town Clerk, Tracy Shearin at redoak@embarqmail.com

There's plenty to do in Nash County. Whether you’re looking for a relaxing afternoon on the water or a day of fast-paced activities, you can find it all in Nash County.

The Tar River Reservoir is an excellent place for all water-related sports. Many areas around the county have fishing and hunting opportunities.

In Rocky Mount, Nashville, Castalia and Red Oak, you’ll find new recreation facilities and programs including tennis, softball, football, soccer and picnicking areas.

In many of Rocky Mount’s parks, picnic shelters are provided for families, groups and non-profit activities. Shelters are also provided at Nashville, Red Oak and Spring Hope parks.

Rocky Mount’s Sunset Park includes a miniature train, historic carousel, picnic shelters, lighted tennis courts, a softball field, and lighted basketball courts.

The park includes a water park, a one-of-a-kind attraction featuring 10 computer-controlled water spray fountains within a traditional playground structure, and a skate park for skateboarding and roller blading enthusiasts.

Rocky Mount also has a park suited just for dog lovers. Best Friend’s Dog Park is located at 480 N Lee Street and gives dog lovers a place to bring their furry friends to play.

Other local municipalities provide various recreational programs for their residents as well.

Since 1954, the City of Rocky Mount Children’s Museum and Science Center has provided an educational program for young people by interpreting and exhibiting significant objects and enriching their lives through the development of proper attitudes through creative outlets. An emphasis placed on providing children with “hands on” experiences of the latest technological advances possible as well as giving them an understanding of the history that led us to these advances. The museum has been the subject of many state and regional publications, including Southern Living magazine. On going programs at the museum include: classes, animal and science talks, birthday parties, outreach presentations to schools and curator opportunities. Each month, Rocky Mount Parks & Recreation Department

There are endless opportunities to join local organizations and volunteer in Nash County. Here is a list of community groups and volunteer opportunities.

Association for Learning, Disabled and Handicapped (ALDH)

ALDH is a non-profit organization that was started in 1979 by a group of concerned parents of learning disabled, ADD/ADHD and handicapped family members. ALDH serves adults and children with mental, physical and learning disabilities. The organization is always looking for volunteers to help tutor students, help with homework, and listen to students read. ALDH needs volunteers through the traditional school year (August thru May) and also during the Summer School. For more information call (252) 972-9896.

ANIMAL GROUPS

Edgecombe-Nash Humane Society is a non-profit organization of volunteers who rescue stray and abused animals in Nash and Edgecombe counties. Rescued pets are kept in foster homes and at boarding facilities. All medical care, food, shelter or any other support for these rescued pets is funded strictly through donations. Volunteers are needed to become foster parents and help at adopt-a-thons. Donations of dog and cat food and other pet supplies is always needed as well. 252-446-1669

Animal Crackers is a grassroots organization made up of concerned citizens who want to make a positive impact on the lives of pets and pet owners in the Rocky Mount area. Animal Crackers volunteers work out of their homes, advocating for animals and promoting responsible pet ownership through local outreach programs. The group serves as a resource for education, volunteer support and financial assistance, promoting relationships with local animal organizations for the benefit of all pets, pet owners and residents of the Rocky Mount area. Friends of the Rocky Mount Animals (F.O.R. Animals) is an animal rescue dedicated to rescuing abused and abandoned animals and finding each animal a permanent, loving home. The group promotes responsible pet ownership by providing low cost spay and neutering services to the community. Friends of Rocky Mount Animals is committed to educating the public on the necessity of spay and neutering which helps control the homeless pet population, the importance of regular pet vaccinations, microchipping and licensing your pet and educating your children to respect animals and by providing your pet fresh water, food and daily exercise. For more information, visit www.foranimals2002.com.

Nash County Animal Friends of NC
- This group was formed in 2010 and is an independent group that works to promote the adoption and rescue of pets at the Nash County Animal Shelter. The group works with the Nash County Animal Shelter to promote the pets needing rescue or adoption and assist rescues when possible. The group also promotes spay and neutering. Visit facebook for more information.

Promoting Animal Welfare in NC (PAWNC) - This group is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization founded in 2012 for the purpose of reducing euthanasia rates of unwanted dogs in North Carolina, with a primary focus on Nash County (Nashville, NC). PAWNC was formed to educate the public about responsible pet ownership and provide spay/neuter assistance to reduce the number of unwanted animals in our community. The group offers free spay/neuter for any animal adopted from Nash County Animal Shelter. Due to the fact Nash County Animal Shelter does not have a fund to assist injured or sick animals that are brought in, PAWNC provides emergency medical assistance for these animals. For info, visit www.pawnc.org.

Cooley Library in Nashville was founded in 1942 by women of the town’s civic clubs. A facility was built on Alston Street in 1971.

The library was dedicated to Congressman Harold Dunbar Cooley, a Nashville native and a U.S. Congressman from 1934 until 1966. Mr. Cooley made extensive contributions to the field of agriculture by serving as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee from 1949 to 1966.

He was also instrumental in the nation’s farming program by his key role in the development of the Farmers Home Administration, the Soil Conservation Service, the Crop Insurance Program, the Tobacco Program as well as the Wheat and Cotton Programs, numerous farm bills, preparation and passage of soil conservation legislation, the Federal Crop Insurance Program, and the Food for Freedom Act. For his extensive contributions to farming and agriculture, the North Carolina Farm Bureau, the North Carolina State Grange, and the Progressive Farmer honored Mr. Cooley with Man of the Year Awards.

Cooley Library is located at 114 W. Church Street after being temporarily housed in the back of the Police/Fire Department. The library was moved to a temporary location in the summer of 2004 due to flooding and mold problems at its facility on South Alston St.

The library is known for its friendly staff and inviting atmosphere which is part of being Nashville’s hometown library.

The mission of the Harold D. Cooley Library is to positively impact the community of Nashville, NC through the provision of educational, cultural, and recreational materials and programs.

You must be at least 16 years of age to receive a library card and live or work in Nash County. A picture ID and current address must be presented to obtain a library card. Children under the age of 16 may have their own card as long as a parent or legal guardian is with them at the time of creating an account.

The HD Cooley Library is a member of the NC Cardinal Consortium of libraries throughout the state of North Carolina. People with library cards from any of the public libraries in NC Cardinal can also check out collections at the Harold D. Cooley Library in Nashville. Cardholders may also request interlibrary loans from any NC Cardinal library at no cost.

Collection: Cooley Library houses a collection of approximately 20,000 volumes. HD Cooley Library provides a wide selection for all types of readers, both visual and auditory and houses an impressive large print collection. They also offer AR materials for school children, Battle of the Books collections for K-12, graphic novels, DVDs, and video games across several platforms. Ebooks can be downloaded from OverDrive with the Libby app or through the provider of the majority of HD Cooley’s online resources, NCLive. The Local History and Genealogy section has information on Nash and surrounding counties as well as some families in the area. In addition, the library subscribes to various periodicals and newspapers covering various age groups and interests. To search the collection, please visit our website at cooley.nccardinal.org.

Loan Period/Renewals: The loan period for most materials is 2 weeks with 2 renewals available; exceptions would be magazines, DVDs, and videogames, which may be checked out for 7 days. DVDs and videogames may be renewed once. New arrivals may not be renewed.

Programs: The library has Storytime for ages 0-5 on Mondays starting at 10:30 a.m. A monthly calendar listing a variety of events for all ages is available at the Circulation Desk or online by viewing the monthly calendar. All programs are advertised on the library’s website, in the library, the library’s Facebook page, in email blasts, and at various locations throughout town. HDCL offers a highly popular Summer Reading program for all ages each year and hosts part of the annual Town of Nashville Fall Fest.

Meeting Space: The library has 4 study rooms that seat four to six people, a Children’s Room, and a Conference Room which seats eight to ten people. Study rooms are first come, first serve but the Conference Room and the Children’s Room may be reserved.

Computers: Cooley Library currently has eight adult desktop computers, 10 laptops for adult, in-house use only and four kid’s computers. Desktop computers may be reserved in one hour increments and time can be extended if no one is waiting. The library also offers free WiFi.

Cooley Library is located at 114 W. Church Street after being temporarily housed in the back of the Police/Fire Department. The library was moved to a temporary location in the summer of 2004 due to flooding and mold problems at its facility on South Alston St.

Nash County is full of interesting historical sites, museums and places of interest. Here are some interesting places to visit:

NASH COUNTY COURTHOUSE

Deciding on where the Nash County seat and the courthouse would be located was a big issue in the newly formed county, back in 1780s - 1800s. The first court session was held on the property of Micajah Thomas, a leading citizen. A selection committee was appointed to find a permanent site. In 1815 the committee decided on the center of the county to build a courthouse. That didn’t make everyone happy, and the dispute continued until 1825, when Nashville was determined to be the county seat.

The courthouse in use today is on the National Register of Historic Places and was built in 1921 by J.C. Stout. It is an example of Colonial Revival style architecture. Located on Washington Street, Nashville.

ROSE HILL

A private country lane lined with brilliant crepe myrtle trees leads you into the heart of Rose Hill Conference Center. At the end of this gently winding road, guests follow a circular drive around a bubbling fountain to be greeted by an 18th century manor home flanked by stately front porch columns.

This sprawling countryside estate was presented to the Boddie family as a land grant from the Crown of England in 1762. Some 30 years later, the first phase of the elegant antebellum mansion was complete.

In the late 1970’s and early 1980’s, the Boddie family restored Rose Hill to its original splendor and turned the 830 acres into a working Angus cattle farm. Today, the estate is on the National Register of Historic Places and offers guests a visit steeped in Old South refinement that’s coupled with a relaxing atmosphere for business or pleasure courtesy of the Boddie family.

MACHAVEN MANSION

This historic Rocky Mount building is in the Colonial Revival/Classical Revival style and is on the National Register of Historic Places. MacHaven, also known as Hines House, was built in 1910 by J.W. Hines. Hines made a fortune as an ice manufacturer and distributor in the days before refrigeration. Located at 306 South Grace Street, Rocky Mount.

STONEWALL MANOR

Stonewall Manor, set in a superb oak grove, was built on the banks of the Tar River circa 1830 by Bennett Bunn, who was a well established cattle farmer. Today, the estate is on the National Register of Historic Places and offers guests a visit steeped in Old South splendor and turned the 830 acres into a working Angus cattle farm. Today, the estate is on the National Register of Historic Places and offers guests a visit steeped in Old South refinement that’s coupled with a relaxing atmosphere for business or pleasure courtesy of the Boddie family.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR MUSEUM

This museum in Bailey recalls a time when house calls were typical for rural physicians. It preserves medical instruments and tools of pharmacy used in the South during the 19th and early 20th centuries. The museum also makes available research materials, diaries, papers, and medical books of country doctors. It features a medicinal herb garden, an annex focusing on the art of nursing, a carriage house displaying an array of doctors’ carriages and early automobiles, and a small museum shop. Located at 6642 Peele Road, Bailey. Phone (252) 235-4165.

DUNN CENTER

The Dunn Center for the Performing Arts is on the campus of North Carolina Wesleyan College. The facility includes the 1,200 seat Minges Auditorium, the intimate Powers Recital Hall, and several galleries including the Mims Gallery. Other spaces include the Carlton Board Room and the Garner Lobby, as well as an acting classroom. The Dunn Center is proud to host the Wesleyan Season Series of cultural events. In addition to these world-class performances, the Dunn Center features a variety of campus and community events, including Campus Activity Board concerts, Wesleyan Theatre department productions, and concerts of the Tar River Orchestra and Chorus. Phone (252) 985-5197.
BODDIE’S MILL POND
Pleasant Grove Community, dates back to the early 1700s. Nathan Boddie, who owned the first mill, received the land as a grant from the King of England sometime around 1750 and it is believed that shortly thereafter the first dam and mill was built.

BATTLE PARK
Battle Park is ideal for hiking, fishing, biking, and nature enthusiasts. This is the area from which Rocky Mount got its name. The park is the site of the original village of Rocky Mount and its first post office, circa 1816. The park offers picnic facilities, scenic overlooks, walks along the Tar River, and a marble monument to local Confederates who served in the Civil War. Located off Falls Road, Rocky Mount.

ROCKY MOUNT TRAIN DEPOT
Rocky Mount’s restored station, located in the historic district, serves passengers and holds offices and the local visitor center.
Wilmington & Weldon Railroad originally built the station in 1893 as a two-story central building. In 1912 Atlantic Coast Line Railroad added two stories to the wings and in 1916, a third story was added to the structure. Today the first floor houses the Amtrak waiting room, ticket areas and baggage claim. Its second floor houses the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce and the third floor houses other businesses through leased space.
An adjoining building, located at 100 Coast Line Street, Rocky Mount, houses the Greyhound Bus Station and the City bus transfer center.

BEL AIR ARTISAN’S CENTER
In downtown Rocky Mount, at 115 Church Street, The Bel Air Artisan’s Center provides working studios for artists and artisans as well as a display areas for different types of art, printing, photography, sculptures, jewelry and more. (252) 955-3186
ROCKY MOUNT CHILDREN’S MUSEUM & SCIENCE CENTER

The Arts Center is also located at the Imperial Centre and houses art galleries showcasing the world of local, regional and national artists. A gallery shop offers hand crafted artwork from the southeast. (252) 972-1163

ROCKY MOUNT MILLS & VILLAGE HISTORIC DISTRICT
One of the first textile plants in the South and dating back to 1818, Rocky Mount Mills is believed to be the second oldest cotton mill in North Carolina. It was the oldest one in continuous operation until its closing in 1996.

The Mill Village began as a small community of tenants working for the mills. Each of the surviving 62 homes (of 145 originally built) is recognized by the National Register of Historic Places. Located off Falls Road, Rocky Mount.

Today, the Mills are being renovated and are home to a 150-acre live-work-play development on the Tar River, including 300,000 square feet of office/multi-use space, 10-20 acres for selected advanced manufacturing and 100 new and restored homes/apartments. Rocky Mount Mills is home to the region’s only beer incubator with seven breweries on campus, with restaurants and other event venues to soon follow.

TAR RIVER TRAIL
The Tar River Trail is a seven-mile long multi use trail near the center of Rocky Mount. The trail follows the Tar River from City Lake to Martin Luther King, Jr. Park and connects to the Rocky Mount Sports Complex. Along the way, the trail passes through Sunset Park, Battle Park and Stith-Talbert Park.

Located off Falls Road, Rocky Mount. Phone (252) 972-1235.

MURRAY’S MILL
When baking bread was more of a necessity, local grist mills would grind the wheat and corn to provide flour and cornmeal. In Nash County there were several grist mills, including Bellamy’s Mill, Boddie’s Mill, Murray’s Mill, Taylor’s Mill and Webb’s Mill.

Murray’s Mill on N.C. 231 in southern Nash County near the crossroads community of Samaria is a good example. Not far from Middlesex, this restored historic mill is in private ownership.

ROCKY MOUNT FIRE MUSEUM
Originally Fire Station No. 2, this historical building built in 1924 now houses the Fire Museum (and the Life Safety and Emergency Management offices for the City of Rocky Mount Fire Department). The museum houses an original horse-drawn fire pump built in Nash County has seven elected County Commissioners who govern the county. The County Manager serves as chief administrator of the county and is responsible to the Board of County Commissioners for administering and managing all departments of the county government. The county seat is located in Nashville, the approximate geographic center of the county.

The Commissioners are the governing body of Nash County. Nash County is divided into seven commissioner districts, nearly equal in population. The boundaries are adjusted every 10 years following the federal census.

Nash County Commissioners meet at 10 a.m. on the first Monday of every month on the third floor of the Claude Mayo, Jr. Administration Building. The board also meets every other month on the third Monday at 1:30 p.m in the Commissioner's Boardroom. The public is encouraged to attend.

The Country Doctor Museum is located at 6642 Peele Road, Bailey.

ESTABLISHED 1908

Home of The Country Doctor Museum

The Town of Bailey was incorporated in 1908 and is a small, rural town mostly known as a farming community. The town also has many independently owned businesses. Bailey is just minutes away from larger areas such as Wilson, Goldsboro and Rocky Mount.

Bailey is home to The Country Doctor Museum, which is considered the oldest museum in the United States. The Country Doctor Museum is dedicated to the history of America's rural health care.

A group of women, under the leadership of Dr. Josephine E. Newell founded The Country Doctor Museum in 1967. The museum, which is located at 6642 Peele Road in Bailey, offers visitors the opportunity to learn about the history of health care and was intended to be a lasting memorial to the founders’ physician ancestors.

In 2003, the museum and its collections were donated to East Carolina University. Today, the museum is managed as part of the History Collections of the Laupus Library.

Bailey has its own Chamber of Commerce which organizes an annual Christmas Parade that draws people from the entire county. The chamber also hosts a pageant each year as well as other events that highlight the town.

The most recent addition to Bailey is the Bailey-Middlesex Park. The first phase opened in 2014 and includes a concession stand, soccer fields, volleyball court and a playground. The park is located outside of Bailey, between Bailey and Middlesex, on Stoney Hill Church Road and was made possible due to PARTF grant funds.
Bailey’s Annual Christmas Parade is held the first Saturday in December.

BAILEY COMMISSIONERS

Bailey holds its monthly town meeting the third Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at Town Hall on Main Street. The public is invited to attend.

Representatives may change during the 2019 election.
Visit www.nashvillegraphic.com or check with your local municipality.
Bailey's Annual Christmas Parade is held the first Saturday in December. Santa is welcomed to town during the parade.
The Town of Castalia was founded in 1873 and is the connecting point between Nash and Franklin Counties. Castalia is best known for its annual July 4th celebration, which features a day full of activities, such as a ceremony honoring veterans, a parade, entertainment, food, crafts and of course, fireworks!

Castalia is also known for its historic homes, including the S.J. Bartholomew House, the Boone-Dickens House, the former Castalia School, L.W. Bobbitt General Supply Store and the Billy Lew Arrington House. Tragically, the Bartholomew-Lancaster House burned in 2006.

Castalia is also home to The Historic Rosenwald School, one of a few remaining Rosenwald Schools. Rosenwald Schools were part of a building program established to improve the quality of public education for African Americans in the early twentieth-century. North Carolina had the most schools of any state.

The Castalia Community Development Organization continues to work hard on restoring the facility so that it can be brought back to use in the community.

Castalia also features the Castalia Community Park, which the town developed with help from Nash County Recreation and Senior Services. The park includes a playground, soccer fields, a walking track, picnic shelter and bathrooms.

CASTALIA holds its monthly town meeting the first Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m. at Town Hall on Main Street. The public is invited to attend.

Representatives may change during the 2019 election. Visit www.nashvillegraphic.com or check with your local municipality.

Dortches is just off I-95 in Nash County offering independent commerce and rural country living.

The Nash County community of Dortches is located right off of Interstate 95 and was incorporated in 1977.

A committee spearheaded by the town’s Ruritan Club was the driving force behind the town being incorporated.

The town limits include a 1.5 mile radius from the intersection of N.C. Hwy. 43 and State Road 1527.

Visitors are known to venture off of I-95 just to visit the town’s popular grocery store, Smith’s Red and White, which was opened in 1954 by Sherwood Smith. The store’s first home was in the old Dortches School House.

Today, Dortches is still well known for its grocery store and as a convenient stop for travelers.

The town board is comprised of a mayor and four commissioners who are elected officials.

Dortches holds its monthly town meeting the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. at Town Hall. The public is invited to attend.

The Town of Middlesex is located in the southern corner of Nash County on US Highway 264, around 20 miles from Raleigh and near the boundaries for Wake, Franklin, Wilson and Johnston Counties.

Middlesex is primarily known as an agricultural community though it is home to several manufacturing industries.

The town was incorporated on January 30, 1908 and is named after the ancient county in England.

Middlesex is home to the Free Will Baptist Children’s Home, a residential child care facility.

In the early 1900s, Original Free Will Baptists saw the need to establish a home for orphans. They decided to locate a home on a 50-acre tract. It was a rural setting with plenty of space for children and it was centrally located in North Carolina. Donated by the Rev. Ben B. Deans, the children’s home - rather than orphanage - was at first just a house and a few small farm buildings. From that humble beginning grew the modern facility and campus of today.

Middlesex is also home to the Middlesex Powell Clinic, which is the first business to open in the Middlesex Corporate Center. The Middlesex Powell Clinic joined UNC Physicians Network in 2015, becoming UNC Internal Medicine & Pediatrics at Middlesex. This change reflects that the practice provides whole family care including pediatrics. UNC Internal Medicine & Pediatrics at Middlesex provides personalized care for patients of all ages, including infants. It is located at 7540 Middlesex Corporate Parkway in Middlesex. For more information, visit uncpn.com.

Middlesex is also home to the Bailey-Middlesex Park. The park is maintained by Nash County Parks and Recreation. The first phase of the park opened in 2014 and includes a walking track, concession stand, soccer fields, volleyball court and a playground. The park is located outside of Middlesex, between Bailey and Middlesex, on Stoney Hill Church Road and was made possible due to PARTF grant funds. There are also two other parks in town that the town owns and maintains, one on West Hanes Avenue and another on S. Nash Street.

Middlesex holds its monthly town meeting the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Nashville, North Carolina is the oldest of the 12 Nashvilles in the United States and is considered “the original Nashville.”

The initial settlement of Nashville began during 1777, when Nash County was created from the western part of Edgecombe County and a county seat was required. The same act which set up Nash County directed Duncan Laman, Nathan Boddie, Matthew Drake, Edward Clerick and Arthur Arrington to contract with workmen to build a courthouse, a prison and stocks. (Boddie and Drake both have streets named after them adjacent to the block the courthouse sits upon today).

Construction for the county’s first courthouse began in 1777 and was completed in 1778 with Nashville then being referred to as Nash Court House by Peach Tree Creek in many stories and later simply referred to as Nash Court House in records.

Nashville began to be referred to as Nashville shortly before 1780 and became a thriving settlement by 1780 gaining a post office in 1805.

The Town of Nashville was officially incorporated by the General Assembly in 1815 as the only incorporated town in Nash County at the time.

The name was meant to honor General Francis Nash who was killed during the Revolutionary War. An interesting side note is that out of all of the Francis Nash Towns, Cities and Counties’ namesakes, Nashville, North Carolina is the only one he ever visited.

Nashville is home to many historic buildings and homes and as the county seat, is home to the county administrative...
building, courthouse, health department, social services, emergency services, sheriff’s office, senior center, Nash Arts and the Nash-Rocky Mount Public School System’s administrative offices.

Nashville has kept its small town charm while being one of the fastest growing full-service municipalities in Nash County.
The town features a newly redeveloped downtown area along the Washington Street area of downtown. Future plans are to revitalize more of the downtown area to include improvements such as streetscape work on sidewalks, lighting, underground utilities, and building facades.

The town is also known as a walkable community with sidewalk stretching mostly from one end of town to the other.

These are just some of the many community development projects Nashville has done to ensure the town re-ains a “A Great Place to Live, Work, and Play.”

But the main ingredient to Nashville success and popularly remains its citizens.

Nashville Mayor Donald B.
Street said the town is one of North Carolina’s best kept secrets and attributes that to the town’s residents.

“We have been here, as a courthouse settlement, village, or incorporated town since 1777,” Mayor Street said. “We are proud to be the namesake for Gen. Francis Nash, a North Carolina martyr in the war of the revolution. Of the several Nashvilles scattered across our great nation, we take extreme pride in being the ‘Original Nashville.’ We are small, friendly, growing into the future, yet preserving our past.”

The Town of Nashville is a full service council-manager municipal government that is home to major residential, commercial, and industrial development. The town operates the following departments:
Administration, Planning, Human Resources, Finance,
Police, Fire, Library, Parks &
Recreation, Public Works and Public Utilities.

Nashville, established in 1780, is the County Seat of Nash County. The town still has a very active downtown featuring shops, services, county offices and the Nash County Courthouse.

Bissette - Cooley House, built between 1908 and 1911 by George
N. Bissette and later occupied by Harold D. Cooley, who was a United States Representative. Cooley served the Second Congressional District of NC from 1934-1966. This Neo-Classical Revival Structure was designed by architect John C. Stout.

A BIT OF HISTORY ...

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad donated the Nashville Depot to the Nashville Garden Club on September 1, 1951. Less than a year later, president Dorothy M. Lincke and 28 other members watched as the old depot building was moved to its present location at 403 South Alston Street soon becoming Nashville’s Community Center. The building still has many of its original features such as hardwood floors and exterior windows and doors. The center has served as a meeting place for many local civic organizations. The Inter-Club Council of Nashville was formed in 1956 accepting responsibility of the care and management of the center. Today the Council continues to care for the center with representatives from American Legion Post 110, -Nashville’s Business & Professional Women’s Club, Nashville Lions Club, Nashville Chamber of Commerce and Woodmen of the World Lodge 1086. Red Oak features multiple events for its citizens and visitors.

Freedom Family Celebration – An area event Co-Sponsored by the Town of Red Oak and area Churches held on the grounds of Red Oak Baptist Church and Red Oak Elementary School. The community gathers on the Sunday night leading up to the Fourth of July to enjoy bounce houses, snow cones, popcorn, hot dogs, music and of course the highlight, fireworks over Ennis Park ball fields. This is a free event for the community annually.

A Red Oak Christmas – Live Music, Train and Carriage Rides, Craft Vendors, Tree Lighting and Santa Claus! This annual event is sponsored by the Town of Red Oak and held at Ennis Park the first weekend of December every year. This year’s event is scheduled for Saturday, November 30th and will include a parade and a 5k co-sponsored by Red Oak Methodist Church.

Red Oak Derby Day – This event is one of two annual fundraisers sponsored by the Red Oak Area Historic Preservation Society (ROAHPS), The Town of Red Oak and local businesses. The event is held the first Saturday of May and features live streaming of the Kentucky Derby on an 8 ft digital screen, catered meal, live band and lots of fun “fund” wagering on the Derby Winner. All proceeds go to benefit the restoration of the Farm Life Teacherage located across from Red Oak Elementary. The event is held on the grounds of the Teacherage. Please contact Town Clerk, Tracy Shearin at redoak@embarqmail.com if you wish to be listed as a sponsor for this fun filled event.

BBQ and Bluegrass – The second annual event sponsored by ROAHPS, Town of Red Oak and area businesses. This fun family oriented event is held the first Saturday of November at the Fisher Pumpkin Farm in Red Oak and features live bluegrass music, hayrides, corn hole, pumpkin carving, Chinese auction and a catered BBQ meal. All proceeds go toward the restoration of the Farm Life Teacherage; sponsorship information can be requested from Town Clerk, Tracy Shearin at redoak@embarqmail.com
The Town of Red Oak was officially incorporated in 1961. Though considered a small community, Red Oak’s city limits have stretched out over 19 square miles since 1996, making it the second largest municipality in Nash County.

Red Oak is considered a popular bedroom community for urban professionals, a retirement spot for senior citizens and a rural home for farm and garden types.

The town is full of historical structures such as its community building which is a rustic revival log building constructed in 1935 by the local community under the auspices of the Emergency Relief Administration (ERA). The building features exposed logs, exposed joists, and unpainted woodwork. The building was initially constructed for use by the Home Demonstration Club.

The Red Oak Community Building is now used as a community center. Church gatherings, family reunions, social events such as bridal and baby showers, receptions, wedding and anniversary parties, scout and 4-H meetings are often held there. The Red Oak Community Building received National Historical Register designation in 2006 and is now owned by The Red Oak Area Historic Preservation Society (ROAHPS).

The building was originally used as a girls’ dormitory to house boarding students who were attending the Red Oak Farm Life High School.

The teacherage/dormitory was later converted to a teacherage for single female teachers who taught at Red Oak School and then, during the late 1950’s, the building was converted to four apartments for married teachers. These apartments were used by teachers until the 1980’s.

The building was owned by the local Board of Education and was sold to a private owner who continued to rent the apartments.

The Town of Red Oak acquired ownership of the building in 2014 and in 2017, the town conveyed ownership to the Red Oak Historical Preservation Society. The Society plans to repair and rehabilitate the building as a business and civic centerpiece of the community. Both the building and gazebo have been placed on the study list to become eligible for the National Historic Register.

The Red Oak Farm Life School was located across the street from the teacherage/dormitory and is now called Red Oak Elementary School. It later became Red Oak High School.

The first graduating class was in 1917 and the last graduating class was in 1966. Red Oak High School consolidated with Benvenue and Nashville High Schools to form Northern Nash High School. The Red Oak High School Alumni Association is still active.

Red Oak Elementary School is still being used as an elementary school, though the Nash-Rocky Mount Public School System is in the midst of discussing plans to close the school down, due to its age, along with two other elementary schools and consolidate all the students into one, newly built elementary school.

Red Oak is also home to Red Oak Middle School, which was built in the early 2000’s on property adjacent to Red Oak Elementary School. The modern school has had a major impact on the community. The two schools have an enrollment in excess of 1,500 students and teachers.

Red Oak Baptist Church was formed in 1887. It originally was located on Highway 43 across from the Red Oak Cemetery and known as Rehobeth. In 1898 a small building was built in the grove at the Red Oak Crossroads. In 1917 a new church building was started and completed in 1919. By 1923, the new church and a new parsonage (located adjacent to the community building) had been built and paid for. In January 2015, the church celebrated the opening of its new Family Life Center. The new 18,000 square foot facility is part of the church’s long-range three-phase plan to improve church facilities and has been an asset to both the congregation and community.

Red Oak United Methodist Church was established in 1815 and originally met on Red Oak Road in a building near the home of Lewis Fisher and was known as “Old Shearin” or “Old Sharon” Church. The congregation built a new church in the early 1920s at its present location on Red Oak Boulevard in Red Oak. Today, the church serves as an integral part of the community as it hosts Boy Scout Troop 16, Cub Scout Pack 16, Girl Scout Troops 578 and 3249, the Fruit of the Spirit Summer Reading Camp, Jacob’s Friends and the Lucy McKeel 5K Run for Children.

St. John Baptist Church located on Red Oak Road, just beyond Red Oak Elementary School, was founded in 1872, and the present building was built in the 1900s. The church is considered one of the largest African American churches in the area.

Calvary Chapel, a non-denominational church, has been located on Red Oak Battleboro Road since the early 2000’s. The congregation is active in sponsoring and participating in many community activities.

Since 1957, the community has been served by the Red Oak Fire Department. The department moved into a new, larger facility in 2010 and serves both Red Oak and Dortches.

At one time, the fire service was made up entirely of volunteers but there are now paid firefighters on duty to assist with the fire services.

Red Oak is also home to the William B. Ennis Park. Ground was broken for the park in December 2007. The park was a joint effort between the Towns of Red Oak and Dortches and Nash County and now serves as a hot spot for recreational events during sports season. The park is named in memory of William B. Ennis who served as a math teacher and coach at Red Oak and Northern Nash High Schools.

The town is currently working on plans to update the park to include a new, special needs playground as well as a pavilion.

In addition to the many recreational activities in Ennis Park, the town is also home to a community co-ed basketball league, which has been around since the 80’s. The league was formed with 200 participants coached by a dedicated group of volunteer coaches. Games were played in the Red Oak Elementary School gym. In 2018, the participation has grown to 425 participants and continues to be served by volunteer coaches. The Red Oak Elementary and Red Oak Middle School gyms provide the backdrop for the games, which are played every Saturday from December until March.

For such a small community, Red Oak has a lot to offer its citizens and leaders in the community continue to strive to keep the Red Oak rural flavor while at the same time, enjoying progress.
Red Oak holds its monthly town meeting on the second Monday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at Town Hall. The public is invited to attend. Representatives may change during the 2019 election. Visit www.nashvillegraphic.com or check with your local municipality.

Rocky Mount hosts its summer Downtown Live Series at the The Imperial Centre for Arts & Sciences which is home to the Maria V. Howard Arts Center and is located in downtown Rocky Mount. The centre offers visual and performing arts, arts education, special events, artist opportunities, the children's museum, theatre, facility rental and more.

Rocky Mount was incorporated as a town in 1867 with just under 400 people. Today, the city boasts a population of over 54,000 and is conveniently located in the heart of the Interstate 95 and U.S. 64 corridors.

Rocky Mount has a location that makes it a great spot for entertainment, sporting events and historical sites.

Historic Halifax, the site of the signing of the “Halifax Resolves,” which is a document that dates back before the Declaration of Independence, is just 30 minutes north of Rocky Mount.

Just east of the city is Historic Tarboro with architecture that dates back to circa 1808. The Atlantic Ocean is only two and a half hours away while the city is only minutes from the state's capital city Raleigh.

First known as the ‘Rocky Mound’ - warring Tuscarora Indians sought the region’s rich land, fish and game. In the late 17th century, colonization began. During the period of 1712-1713, the Tuscaroras were defeated and settlement of the area took place. By the mid-1700s, a church and a gristmill came into existence, and in 1816, the term Rocky Mount was used for the newborn city.
The city was located on the Falls of the Tar; therefore, the area's first industry, Battle's Mill, later named Rocky Mount Mills, was built at the site of the gristmill. The mill is recognized as the state's second oldest cotton mill and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The mill made for an attractive location for a railroad line. The Wilmington to Weldon was completed by 1840 and was the longest railroad in the war.

In 1863, a one-day raid during the Civil War destroyed the cotton mill, the railroad bridge and buildings in the area. It took several years to rebuild; however, a village of 300 residents was incorporated in 1867.

Rocky Mount's Chamber formed in 1904. The city's economy became wealthy in tobacco and cotton. In 1960, Rocky Mount ranked as the world's largest bright leaf tobacco market.

Nothing impacted the area more than the founding of Hardee's Food Systems in 1961. Rocky Mount natives Jim Gardner and Leonard Rawls formed Hardee's and the company grew to become a giant in the fast-food business.

Continuing its growth pattern, Rocky Mount attracted multiple businesses and industry over the years including aeronautics (Honeywell), pharmaceuticals (Hospira), diesel engines (Cummins-Rocky Mount Engine Plant), banking (PNC Bank) and food distribution (MBM Corporation.)

During the 60s and 70s, Rocky Mount continued to grow, becoming home of the county's hospital, Nash UNC Health, N.C. Wesleyan College, and the Rocky Mount-Wilson Airport. Shopping increased with new retail; the Tar River became a recreational area and new highways were added.

Today, the city is focusing on renewed visions.

The mill and surrounding area have been reborn as a complete live-work-play community.

Capitol Broadcasting Company, which led the restoration of the acclaimed American Tobacco Campus in Durham, bought Rocky Mount Mills and began reinventing it as a mixed-use destination.

The historic train station in downtown was also restored, offering travelers a visual taste of the past, while it also houses the Amtrak station, and the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce, along with other business offices.

The City's Downtown area has also been renewed, after town leaders worked to revitalize the area, with specific goals of economic restructuring, design, promotion and transportation. Immediate improvements have been made such as the cultural complex, the Imperial Centre, which is housed in the renovated Imperial Tobacco Factory and old Braswell Library buildings. Both are on the national register of historic buildings. The Centre includes the Maria V. Howard Arts Center, The Rocky Mount Children's Museum and Science Center and The Playhouse Community Theatre, all of which lost their homes in the flood following Hurricane Floyd in 1999.

Other facilities in the city include the Rocky Mount Sports Complex, which is located at the old Rocky Mount airport site. The Complex is used by local leagues during the week and is host to major tournaments on weekends. The City also has the newly renovated Douglas Block and Monk Plaza, located on N.E. Main and E. Thomas Street.

Rocky Mount's newest addition is the multi-million dollar event center located at 285 NC Main Street in downtown. The vision for the event center is "to use sports tourism as a catalyst for not only driving economic impact, but the revitalization of the once bustling, downtown Rocky Mount, NC." Other events such as concerts, conventions, weddings and special events are welcome at the facility as well.
The newest addition to Rocky Mount is the Rocky Mount Event Center located at 285 NE Main Street.

Business and community leaders working together for a better tomorrow.
Rocky Mount’s train station is part of the city’s historic district. The building was originally constructed in 1893 by Wilmington & Weldon Railroad as a two-story Romanesque station with one story wings. The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad added two stories to the wings in 1911-12 and in 1916 a third story was added to the structure. A modern addition was built in the 1960s. The restoration of the station was completed in 2000.

The Dunn Center is located on the campus of North Carolina Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount. The facility includes the 1,180-seat Minges Auditorium, the intimate Powers Recital Hall, and several galleries including the Mims Gallery. The Dunn Center is host to a variety of events including theatre and concerts. For more information visit www.ncwc.edu/arts/dunncenter.

The Rocky Mount City Council meets in regular session twice each month on the 2nd Monday at 7 p.m. and on the 4th Monday at 4 p.m. Meetings are held in the City Council Chamber on the third floor of the Municipal Administrative Complex located at One Government Plaza in downtown Rocky Mount.

Representatives may change during the 2019 election. Visit www.nashvillegraphic.com or check with your local municipality.

Rocky Mount City Hall is located at 331 South Franklin Street.
The family park in Sharpsburg is named after Miss Annie R. Beasley, a former educator in the Nash-Rocky Mount Public School System who was elected at Mayor of Sharpsburg in 1983. She was the first Black and the first female to serve in this position. She served as Mayor for twenty-five years.

The Town of Sharpsburg was incorporated in 1883 and is located on US Highway 301 between Rocky Mount and Wilson. Uniquely situated across three counties (Nash, Wilson and Edgecombe Counties), Sharpsburg was founded by John Jacob Sharpe, an explorer from Pennsylvania who arrived in North Carolina during the early years of the Civil War. He was hired to build a supply depot and barracks for Union soldiers. Sharpe and his crew first camped in the area that is now Sharpsburg. After the war, Sharpe apparently used the money he had been paid to buy farms that were auctioned due to hard economic times and became the owner of a majority of the area’s land.

History says that Atlantic Coast Line trains stopped in Sharpsburg because of a well that was located near the railroad tracks at what is now the Main St. crossing. Sharpe is credited with digging this well in 1870.

Sharpsburg’s first school of record was a one-room building, which was located on the Wilson County side of town. The land and materials were donated by Sharpe and A.J. Batchelor and D.L. Lancaster also furnished material for the school, which was built in 1875. The school’s teacher was a traveling preacher, Rev. Joseph Edgar Hocutt, who taught class during the week and preached on Sunday. They moved several times until construction of another building in 1928. The building still stands today and was last used as an antique store.

Sharpsburg is a small community that strives to maintain its rich history while involving and empowering citizens in the Town’s growth and future.

Interesting fact: Until electric lights were installed in 1924, Sharpsburg employed a lamp lighter.
The Town of Spring Hope was incorporated in 1889 and is home to many historical homes, churches and businesses.

The town serves as the home of the Spring Hope Historical Museum, which provides local information and carefully collected artifacts. Two dozen homes in Spring Hope have historical status in the State of North Carolina. Architecture in both the residential and downtown commercial areas includes Greek Revival, Carpenter Gothic and Cottage Victorian.

Both residents and newcomers to Spring Hope find the town conveniently located to larger areas such as Rocky Mount and Raleigh, the state capital.

Spring Hope’s Municipal Building opened in 2008 and houses town hall offices, police department and council chambers. The new facility fits in nicely with the downtown area and goes along well with the town’s motto, “Honoring the Past, Building the Future.”

The downtown is home to a variety of specialty shops and just outside of the downtown area you’ll find medical facilities, grocery stores and restaurants. The downtown area is also home to town’s library, which is housed in the old train depot building.

The town is also known for its Annual Pumpkin Festival which is hosted by the Chamber of Commerce and is typically held the first weekend in October. The festival is one of the nation’s oldest celebrations of the pumpkin and serves as the official North Carolina site of the national Pumpkin Recipe Contest.

The Town of Whitakers was established on land owned by Richard and Elizabeth Whitaker, who came into the area in 1740 and settled on Fishing Creek. A hundred years after the first Whitaker couple settled in the area, the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad came through. A descendant of Richard Whitaker undertook a siding operation to keep the engines taking on wood and water and the stop became known as Whitaker’s Turnout. A village soon developed around the siding.

A post office was set up in 1869 as Whitaker’s Post Office. In 1886, the name was changed to Mayonita for approximately three months in order to honor Major J.M. Mayo. Whitakers, without the apostrophe, became the name again and has remained so until the present.

Although Bellamy’s Mill is not within the Whitakers town limits, it was involved in the town’s history. Bellamy’s Mill was built on Fishing Creek around 1850 and operated at that time as a spinning mill. During the Civil War, uniforms for Confederate soldiers were made there. Following the war, the plant was converted to a grist mill. Although intact, the mill, still standing, is no longer used.

Whitakers is located in both Nash and Edgecombe Counties, near the northern most portion of both, and is only four miles south of Halifax County. Whitakers is a five-minute drive from Interstate 95 and just 30 minutes from the Rocky Mount-Wilson Airport. The town boasts many historic landmarks, including Whitakers Baptist Church, Watson Seed Farms and The Franklinton Center at Bricks.

The government of Whitakers is comprised of the mayor and a five-member town council. The town provides police service and receives protection from the Nash and Edgecombe County Sheriff’s Departments as well.

The Franklinton Center at Bricks is a UCC conference, retreat and educational center. But the center is also full of history, as it was established in 1895 as a school for African Americans. In 1926, it became a junior college for African Americans. The facility closed in 1933 but much of the school’s history still sits on the campus, just outside of the Whitakers city limits.

Nash County’s location makes it the ideal spot to start, expand or relocate a business or industry.

Nash County has everything for business success, starting with location, location, location.

Its central location on the Eastern Seaboard is ideal for transportation and shipping, with Interstate 95, U.S. 64 and U.S. 301 intersecting here, and passenger and freight rail service with numerous depots, and air service within convenient reach.

Educational institutions found here offer the latest training and development opportunities. Nash Community College opened the doors in 2005 to its multimillion dollar Science and Technology Center, providing a state of the art biotech and advanced training facility. Within an hour’s drive, you’ll find universities that offer nationally recognized programs.

It is generally regarded that Nash County offers a sound and dynamic business climate. There is a reliable, educated workforce to get the job done.

Finding the right location - and utilizing a wide range of expertise and assistance to do it - is easy. Several agencies are available as resources for potential employers.

Carolinas Gateway Partnership
The Carolinas Gateway Partnership is a public-private partnership dedicated to the economic development of Nash and Edgecombe Counties. It is a collaborative effort of two counties and 18 cities, towns and municipalities. The area is known as the Twin County region and is defined as the Rocky Mount Metropolitan Statistical Area by the US Census.

The area’s largest employers include health care, pharmaceutical and advanced manufacturing companies. The area’s location, halfway between New York and Miami and easily accessible to the Research Triangle by interstate quality highways, provides an excellent base for companies that want to serve the populous east coast market, be a part of an emerging technology based economy and yet desire a very cost competitive environment. The area is equidistant from the international ports at Hampton Roads, Virginia and Wilmington and Morehead City, North Carolina.

The Upper Coastal Plain Council of Governments
The Upper Coastal Plain Council of Governments (UPCOG) is one of 16 multi-county planning and development regions in the State. The UPCOG is the lead planning organization comprising five county governments and 39 municipal governments who hold membership. Edgecombe, Halifax, Nash, Northampton and Wilson counties are designated as State Planning Region L.

Working under the direction of locally elected officials of these member governments, the staff plans and administers a variety of federal, state and local programs and services. Monthly meetings are forums where officials determine priorities for the region of which their communities are integral parts.

UPCOG provides continued assistance and support for a workforce that answers the demands of “a transforming knowledge and skills driven economy.”

Working under the direction of locally elected officials of these member governments, the staff plans and administers a variety of federal, state and local services and programs.

The Upper Coastal Plain Business Development Center
The Upper Coastal Plain Business Development Center is an entrepreneurial business incubator serving startup and existing small businesses in the Upper Coastal Plain Region of Eastern North Carolina. The primary service area covers Edgecombe, Halifax, Nash, Northampton and Wilson Counties, but services are available to any small business needing advice and support regardless of their location.

The BDC opened in November 2007 in the former Belk-Tyler’s Building in Wilson.

The BDC offers turnkey office space equipped with all the startup essentials, so you don’t have to worry about setting up and contracting for telephones and fax, utilities, Internet, copy center, or receptionist. Meeting rooms are well-equipped and professional settings for making presentations to prospective customers or conducting training sessions. There is also the advantage of on-site counseling and advisors who can assist in business planning, marketing and promotion, market intelligence and analysis, market entry and growth strategies, and access to potential funding sources.

Upper Coastal Plain SCORE
The Upper Coastal Plain chapter of SCORE serves entrepreneurs and small businesses in the five counties of Nash, Edgecombe, Halifax, Northampton and Wilson.

SCORE offers free and confidential business advice for those looking to start a business or for those already in business. Volunteers are the backbone of the SCORE organization.

SCORE is a resource partner of the U.S. Small Business Administration. Branch offices are located in Wilson, Nashvilles and Roanoke Rapids in addition to the chapter office in Rocky Mount.

The footprints of President Harry S. Truman are displayed in the Nash County Courthouse lobby. Nash County’s Harvest Festival was an event many looked forward to each year but the 18th year proved to be the most exciting, as President Harry Truman visited the festival, literally leaving his footprints behind on October 14, 1960. Truman’s cemented footprints sat for years outside the Nash County Courthouse and for over 50 years, battled the elements. Former Nash County Clerk of Court Rachel Joyner worked with a committee of volunteers to restore the footprints in 2013.
